MARCH 3RD 2019

The Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

SEASON OF LENT BEGINS on Ash Wednesday, March 6th.

Mass Schedule:
8:00 am Frankfort
12:00 pm Blaine
5:30 pm Blue Rapids

Remember..... Fasting and Abstinence during Lent

To sum up those requirements, Catholics between ages of 18 and 59 are obliged to fast on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. In addition, all Catholics 14 years old and older must abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, and all Fridays of Lent. Fasting as explained by the U.S. bishops means partaking of only one full meal. Some food (not equaling another full meal) is permitted at breakfast and around midday or in the evening—depending on when a person chooses to eat the main or full meal. Abstinence forbids the use of meat, but not eggs, fish, milk products or condiments made of animal fat.

Frankfort— March 22nd, 5:00-7:30.

With its invitation to conversion, Lent comes providentially to awaken us, to rouse us from our spiritual sluggishness. The Lord addresses to us through the prophet Joel. Why must we return to God? Because something is not right in us, not right in society, not right in the Church and we need to change and give it new direction. And this is called needing to convert!

Once again Lent reminds us that it is possible to create something new within ourselves and around us, simply because God is faithful, always faithful, for God cannot deny himself. Let us set out on the journey!

One Give-up

Giving up something for Lent has been part of the Church almost since the beginning. While giving up sweets and alcohol are time-honored, consider giving up one thing that you really like or enjoy. Just make sure it is something that lets you feel the deprivation and is at least a little bit challenging. Make it difficult but doable.

- Fast from fault finding and nagging, and fast from critical tongue or a closed mind.
- Give up impulse purchases.
- Give up an unhealthy habit, like smoking
- Limit the time you watch TV or surf the web.
- Give up fast food and donate the money you save.

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

Jim Downing, a friend of mine, who has since died, tells of an Oriental fable of three horsemen who were traveling through the desert at night. “Unexpectedly they were confronted by a mysterious person. The stranger told them that they would soon cross the dry bed of a stream. ‘When you arrive there,’ he declared, ‘get off your horses and fill your pockets and saddle bags from the river bed. At sunrise examine the stones you have picked up. You will be both glad and sorry.’ “As the man predicted, the travelers came to a dry stream bed. In a spirit of adventure they put a few of the many stones they found scattered about, into their pockets. At sunrise the next day they examined the pebbles they had picked up. To their great astonishment they found the stones had been transformed into diamonds, rubies, emeralds and other precious stones. Recalling the statement of the stranger in the desert, they understood what he meant—they were glad for the pebbles they had picked up but sorry they hadn’t taken more.”w We too, like the horsemen, are traveling through life, picking up stones and storing them in the pockets of our heart and mind. At the end of life’s journey, we too will be sorry or glad when we discover whether the stones we picked up are mere earth or eternally precious. This week’s Gospel reading indicates that we can get a glimpse into the future contents of these pockets by looking at the things our heart is producing now. Often it is our reactions that show what is stored there. Much of life is thoughtful, contemplated action, wherein we determine what our response to life will be. However, occasionally, and for some frequently, we encounter the unexpected and have no time to think and act, but only to spontaneously react. Like a cup, brimming full of liquid, when it is jarred unexpectedly, whatever was put into the cup, will slosh out. So it is with these unplanned reactions. When life unexpectedly jars us, the language, attitudes, and behaviors that spill out, show us with what we are filled. This passage also says that “everyone when he is fully taught will be like his teacher.” Jesus is the “master teacher,” and His life and words are pure gold, showing us who God is, how we are related to Him, and how we should relate to one another. Each of us who follows Him, desires to be like Him, and when life unexpectedly jars us, usually it is a good news, bad news situation. The good news is that five or ten years ago we would have reacted much worse. The bad news is that we still are not responding fully like Jesus would. But we have hope! For the promise of this passage is that when we are “fully” taught, we will be like our teacher. Let’s determine once again to purposely dismount from the busyness of our daily travels, to pause at the Master’s feet and pick up some precious spiritual stones. “It can easily be shown from examples both in the Old Testament and the New that the Spirit changes those in whom he comes to dwell; he so transforms them that they begin to live a completely new kind of life.... Saint Paul writes: ‘As we behold the glory of the Lord with unveiled faces, that glory, which comes from the Lord who is the Spirit, transforms us all into his own likeness, from one degree of glory to another.’ Does that not show that the Spirit changes those in whom he comes to dwell and alters the whole pattern of their lives? With the Spirit within them it is quite natural for the people who had been absorbed by the things of this world to become entirely other-worldly in outlook, and for cowards to become men of great courage.”—Cyril of Alexandria
