Karen's Corner

Did you know that Fr. Ronald Rolheiser, in his book "Prayer, Our Deepest Longing" identifies six "demons" that live inside of us? Remember that Jesus was tempted by Satan in the desert. Inside each of us is a saint and a sinner. We are torn in ways that leave us feeling unsure, guilty and tense. It's not easy being human! So what are these things inside of us?

First, grandiosity. This is the thing that tells us we are the center of the universe and that our lives are more important than those of others. We can become self-centered, pre-occupied with our own wants and needs and the urge to be the center of attention.

Second, loneliness. This is an unhealthy restlessness inside of us that tells us we will always be alone, unloved, excluded. It makes us desperate to find a way out of this feeling.

Third, unbridled pleasure. This can take the form of obsession addiction and lust. It makes us believe that [food, alcohol, drugs, sex, shopping, gambling, pornography, etc.] will make us feel better. This single pleasure is what will bring us peace and fulfillment, when we listen to that thought.

Fourth, paranoia; this is the feeling of bitterness, anger and jealousy. We begin to believe that life has cheated us and we have not been given our just place. This fills us with the need to be cynical, cold, distrustful and causes us to curse God.

Fifth, woundedness tells us that we are totally broken and for us, it is too late to be healed. The best we can do is to find comfort in the things listed above.

Lastly, joylessness, which is the feeling of self-pity, Oh, poor me, no one's problems are as bad as mine! These thoughts cause us to believe that cynicism is wisdom; bitterness is justice; and joylessness is maturity.

Wow. I know each of these feelings! How do we counteract these feelings? How do we rid ourselves of them? It is scary to enter the desert, as Jesus did, to confront these things. But Scripture tells us that if we can muster the courage to face these things, God will send angels to minister to us and they will give us the feelings of calm, restfulness, patience, empathy, humility, joy, playfulness and humor.

We can memorize short prayers for these times, such as "Jesus, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner." Or memorize a Bible verse; my personal favorite is Romans 8:38-39 "For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor present things, nor future things, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord!" We need to arm ourselves with prayer and Scripture in order to overcome these things. "For the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control". (Galatians 5:23-23)

See you soon! Karen

In April we recycled 5,190 lbs of paper and saved 44.12 Trees, 8.56 cubic yards of landfill space and heated 2.6 homes for 6 months. Our efforts earned us $70.63

We also received $140.81 for our May Market Day sale.

† STEWARDSHIP ✉

Count your blessings, acknowledge God's gifts to you and express thanks to Him in praise.

In today's Gospel, Jesus charges his followers to "make disciples of all nations." What exactly is going on here? What is this Great Commission anyway? Good stewards know they are directed to share what they exercise stewardship over: their life of faith in Christ Jesus. They know Jesus didn't direct them to go to church and to keep quiet about it; or to go out into the neighborhood, workplace or marketplace and just be nice. Christ's Good News is meant to be shared. Many people in our communities don't know about Jesus Christ. Does that bother us? Do we care? Do we realize we are supposed to do something about it?
