Diocesan-wide Diaper Drive: Respect Life Month Oct.

There is a huge need within our diocese for diapers. All sizes, but particularly the larger ones, sizes 3-6. Let's help stock the shelves with diapers and wipes at our local crisis pregnancy centers and Parenting Support Programs through Catholic Charities! Help build the pyramid in the main entrance of church! We will collect until Oct. 23rd.

NOTES FROM FR. CARL.....

The weather sure has taken a turn-get out the sweaters and sweatshirts!

In our Gospel this weekend we hear the apostles say to the Lord, "Increase our faith". God gives us the gift of faith, but it comes to us through others. We hear the word of God proclaimed at Mass and we in turn need to go out into the world and become models to those we meet. Moreover, our modeling of Christian behavior can be one of the greatest ways to pass along our faith to others. Let us continue to listen to our Lord and allow him to guide us in our faith, prayers and deeds. Blessings, Fr. Carl

Edge and Life Teen

Middle & High School Religious Education

It's kick off weekend for Life Teen! Our first Life Teen Mass of the season is Sunday, October 2nd at 5pm at Corpus Christi. This is NOT a teen Mass: all are welcome! And yes, it "counts" as your Sunday Mass. In fact, we offer this Mass weekly so if you ever are traveling, want to sleep in, or want to check out the Life Teen Mass, you are welcome! After Mass, high school teens will gather for dinner and then a Life Night (their Religious Education) until 8pm.

If they haven't registered yet, they can come to Edge on Wednesday night to get the papers. It is never too late to be part of the group! We meet from 6-7:15pm at Corpus Christi. We ask that all parents drop off students in the lower lot off of Maple St and the students enter in door 3.

'Deepest gratitude' offered to public safety professionals at Blue Mass

BY SAM LUCERO | FOR THE COMPASS

GREEN BAY — Gratitude summarized the message delivered to members of the public safety profession during the annual Blue Mass celebrated Sept. 18 at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral.

Bishop David Ricken, along with five priests (Frs. Dan Felton, Richard Getchel, Scott Valentyn, Joseph Dorner and Antoine Boucheron) and two deacons (Tom Mahoney and David Parker) presided at the liturgy, which was attended by numerous uniformed police and fire department personnel.

"We join in expressing our deepest gratitude to you for all of the sacrifices you make to put your lives in danger in defense of the public good," said Bishop Ricken during his homily. He said the service, attended by Catholics and non-Catholics, was an opportunity for community members "to say thank you. ... I am hoping people will not take you for granted, but recognize that you and your families make tremendous sacrifices to serve us and to keep us safe and to keep peace flourishing through our communities."

Bishop Ricken offered a brief history of the Blue Mass. He said the first Blue Mass was celebrated on Sept. 29, 1934, by Fr. Thomas Dade, founder of the Catholic Police and Fire Society, at St. Patrick Church in Washington, D.C. Over the years, and especially after 9/11, more church leaders around the country are sponsoring them annually.

FRANKLY, FRANCIS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

There are moments of weariness and disillusion. Thus let us remember these words of the Lord, which give us so much consolation and allow us to understand whether we are placing our energy at the service of the good. Indeed, at times our weariness is caused by placing trust in things that are not essential, because we have distanced ourselves from what really matters in life. The Lord teaches us not to be afraid to follow Him, because the hope that we place in Him will never disappoint. Thus, we are called to learn from Him what it means to live on mercy so as to be instruments of mercy. Live on mercy so as to be instruments of mercy: live on mercy and feel needful of Jesus' mercy, and when we feel in need of forgiveness, of consolation, let us learn to be merciful to others.

Parish dedicates Life Teen coffee house to Adam LaLuzerne

BY MONICA SAWYN | FOR THE COMPASS

STURGEON BAY — There were desserts — lots of them — and a standing-room-only crowd of laughing, talking, milling people.

They had all come to pay tribute to a fallen friend, to rename Corpus Christi's Life Teen coffee house after him — and to announce a social media campaign in his memory.

"I don't think you know how much Adam liked to eat," quad-parish youth minister Sarah Gavin told a chuckling crowd. "That is why we said bring lots of desserts. So please, eat!"

Adam LaLuzerne was a former parish and Life Teen member, and most currently a student at St. Norbert College in De Pere. He and a college friend, Kurt Ahonen of Suamico, drowned in July after being swept off a pier near Sheboygan. Another friend, Dylan Abeyta of Sturgeon Bay, was also swept into the water, but was rescued.

The tears had mostly all been shed weeks ago, and the Sept. 1 gathering was a time to share memories, friendships and, above all, laughter.

Gavin noted that LaLuzerne had spent a lot of time at the coffee house, located in the lower level of the parish center.

Our full story appears in the Sept. 9 issue.

5 THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

The Rosary

PATRICIA KASTEN | THE COMPASS

- 1 The feast of Our Lady of the Rosary is Oct. 7. The feast dates to the Battle of Lepanto on Oct. 7, 1571.
- 2 The Joyful Mysteries are traditionally prayed on Mondays. They offer reflection on the Incarnation and Jesus' childhood.
- 3 The Sorrowful Mysteries are prayed on Tuesdays and Fridays, and most days in Lent. They present Jesus' suffering and death, the first half of the Paschal Mystery.
- 4 The Glorious Mysteries are recited on Wednesdays, Saturdays and most Sundays. The Glorious Mysteries reflect on the second half of the Paschal Mystery, the Resurrection and Ascension, as well as the Assumption and Coronation of Mary.
- 5 The Luminous Mysteries, added in 2002 by St. John Paul II, are prayed on Thursdays. They honor Jesus' ministry.

Faithful citizenship: The moral life

In my experience as a pastor and as a bishop, I have found that many people love Jesus and strive to be good people, but they struggle with one (or several) aspects of church teaching, especially regarding the moral life. When a pastor or bishop speaks about morality, sometimes they are told to "mind your own business" or "you have no right to tell me how to live my life." Yet, Pope Francis reminds each of us in Evangelii Gaudium that "The church's pastors . . . have the right to offer opinions in all that affects people's lives, since the task of evangelization implies and demands the integral promotion of each human being" (182).

BISHOP'S CORNER

Bishop David Ricken

In our journey as Disciples on the Way, I want to focus my efforts during this presidential election season on discussing the moral life as it pertains to how particular issues are treated by candidates and public officials. The way each of us lives his or her life affects the family, the church, society and the common good.

In discussions on the moral life, I find that some individuals do not understand the distinctions that exist between and among clusters of issues.

In "Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship," the U.S. bishops comment on two major temptations that can block our ability to promote and defend human life and dignity:

The first is a moral equivalence that makes no ethical distinctions between different kinds of issues involving human life and dignity. The direct and intentional destruction of innocent human life from the moment of conception until natural death is always wrong and is not just one issue among many. It must always be opposed (no. 28).

Here the bishops are clearly stating that protection of life and the dignity of the human person are foundational to the consideration of all else. Without these, especially the protection of human life, all other treatments of the human person become relative and circumstantial.

The second is the misuse of these necessary moral distinctions as a way of dismissing or ignoring other serious threats to human life and dignity. The current and projected extent of environmental degradation has become a moral crisis, especially because it poses a risk to humanity in the future and threatens the lives of poor and vulnerable human persons here and now.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

A FOUNDATION IN EQUALITY

Our country was founded on a simple yet powerful truth, that all people are created equal with God-given rights. While this idea has proven harder to put into practice than it is to believe, it has still guided us through hard times. And whenever equality has been recognized and rights have been upheld, our country has been strengthened.

We are again at a time in our history when certain people in our society are seen as inferior and their rights are being trampled. A child, just moments before being born, has lost even the right to life. They are seen as less than a person, as something that can be done away with.

Even as the courts tell us otherwise, we intuitively know that babies are people. We can see in their little smiles and small bodies that they are weak and need us to protect and nurture them. We can see in their eyes that the move from womb to world did not change who they are, and we know that it certainly should not change if they are allowed to live.

In our nation, a grave moral wrong has been made into a protected legal right. Yet, the decision to legalize abortion did not change God's view of this sad act of desperation. All Christians are called to stand for God's truth (Eph. 6:14), to defend the weak and protect the helpless (Pr. 24:11-12). We are called to support those in need (Pr. 31:8-9) and rise up to defend the defenseless (Ps. 82:3-4).

We are called to take action! (Tit. 3:14)

DOES YOUR SUPPORT MATTER?

The fight against the legal slaughter of unborn children has moved, for the most part, to the state and local levels. Across the country local legislators have made commonsense laws, such as requiring medical inspections, that have exposed the evil found in the abortion industry. Many other states have taken the steps to remove tax-funded support of Planned Parenthood, the largest provider of abortions in the U.S. Each of these victories is found on the local and state levels, where your support makes a significant impact. Simply letting your legislators know you appreciate their pro-life support, or calling those who don't let them know you object, helps.

In national politics, the president decides the Supreme Court justices who can protect or strip rights away. Supporting the pro-life candidate can have decades of impact. Get behind pro-life candidates, tell others about why they should be supported, and then vote for them during the elections. You can make a difference.

WHAT WILL YOU DO?

Abortion is a great evil in our country, and it is time for all Christians to respond. Will you support and love young women in their time of need? Will you volunteer at a Pro-Life organization to spread the truth? Will you support candidates who stand against the culture for life in the womb? Our history is full of victories for equality and rights; will you be a part of this one?

From the Principal

Committed To Excellence

Vince Lombardi once said, "The quality of a person's life is in direct proportion to their commitment to excellence, regardless of their chosen field of endeavor." As you walk thru the front doors of our school you will see to your right photos of our staff at St. John Bosco. Each of us committing to excellence in the work we do each day. What does this mean? First of all, it is not just a statement but an ongoing belief. Constantly striving for excellence in every area of your life is ultimately what will determine the quality of your life, no matter what you do for a living. Excellence is not about settling for average. When you give your all at everything you do, when you commit to excellence daily, you will start to see the quality of your life escalate. You will feel more at peace. You will feel a sense of accomplishment like never before because you know that deep down, you gave everything you had. Excellence is not about how much money is in your bank account or what kind of car you drive. Excellence is about waking up each morning and declaring that you will do your best at everything you do and be better than you were the day before. Excellence and perfection are not the same thing. Perfection is the unattainable thing you strive for when you are trying to prove something to yourself or others. Excellence, on the other hand, is the confident pursuit of the highest quality when you believe in what you are doing and that its value warrants your persistent commitment. Continuing to embrace change and move forward, we give you our commitment toward excellence on behalf of the students at St. John Bosco and their continued growth in their faith, academics and social development.

Technology Update – Mrs. Hartl

Our digital transformation is in progress! We have 10 new interactive flat panel Smart Boards in grades 1-8, art and music/band. Each student in grades 4-8 has their own laptop to use in school. Grades 4K-3 have one iPad for every 3 students so that students can utilize the iPad in small group activities and individualized instruction. We have access to 2 new web based digital interactive sites, MobyMax and Brain Pop! These sites provide resources that allow our teachers to help identify our students’ skills and individualize a curriculum to differentiate learning to meet their specific needs and supply engaging resources that appeal to different learning styles and abilities. The teachers are receiving training to learn how to implement all of our new wonderful resources. Keep an eye on our web page, Facebook and the newsletter to see more pictures of our digital transformation in action.
