Special Collection to be taken this weekend February 18th / 19th.

Hurricane Matthew devastated many communities in the Caribbean and the US at the end of October.

The president of US Conference of Catholic Bishops, Archbishop Joseph Kurtz, encouraged his brother bishops to take up an emergency collection to aid these communities. At that time, we did not send out notice about it. The National Office for Diocesan Collections is asking again that we reach out to these hard hit areas in their time of need by taking up a special collection.

Thank you for anything you can do to assist in this devastation.
